

MADE NO REQUESTS FOR CAMPAIGN AID DECLARES COLONEL

SAYS NO FUNDS WERE ACCEPTED IN 1904 IN RETURN FOR PROMISES OF ANY KIND.

IS EMPHATIC WITNESS

Progressive Candidate On Stand Before Senate Committee Today.

To Hurt His Cause, Charges Committee Seeks.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Oct. 4.—Col. Roosevelt arrived here early today to be the star witness in the Clapp investigation committee into campaign contributions. The colonel's train arrived here shortly after seven and the colonel with his party passed through the railway station where he was greeted by a few leaders of

COL. THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

The progressive party here and then took breakfast at a hotel within sight of the White House.

Standard Oil Gift.

The principal part of the colonel's examination before the committee was to be concerning the $100,000 Standard Oil contribution to the republican national campaign fund of 1904. John Archibald has testified that he made such contribution to the late Cornelius N. Bliss, George R. Sheldon, treasurer of the committee in 1908 and also this year, also has testified that Mr. Bliss' records showed that there was such a contribution.

George B. Cortelyou, chairman of the committee in 1904 has stated that no such contribution was received and Colonel Roosevelt has said that he gave repeated and express instructions to both Mr. Bliss and Mr. Cortelyou that if such a contribution was made it was to be immediately returned.

Charles H. Duell, assistant treasurer of the committee in 1904, told the committee yesterday that he did not believe Mr. Bliss kept any information of any concern from Mr. Cortelyou.

If Colonel Roosevelt's examination by the committee is concluded in a comparatively short time he would visit the national museum to look over some of the trophies of his South African hunt which are mounted there.

Entrance Is Crowded.

Colonel Roosevelt breakfasted with William Lead, Jr., former private secretary and now collector of customs of New York, before going to the senate office building where the investigation is being held. Several hundred people were lined up in the corridors of the building two hours before the opening, hoping that they might get into the little committee room with its capacity for about one hundred. Hundreds of others packed the doorways of the building to see the colonel enter.

Seats had been reserved by Chairman Clapp for George Reid, Australian High Commissioner and Lady Reid who had been Colonel Roosevelt's hosts abroad.

No Time for Politics.

A murmur of applause emanating in a cheer greeted Col. Roosevelt as he entered the building about five minutes before the time set for his appearance. He forced his way through the crowds in the corridors with some difficulty and found his way to Senator Clapp's private room. There he met the members of the committee. The crowd continued to grow and every door of the big room was surrounded by an anxious throng.

Col. Roosevelt learned this morning that Governor Hadley of Missouri had declared in favor of President Taft. He would make no comment upon the governor's action nor would he express an opinion upon the nomination of Congressman Sulzer as democratic candidate for governor of New York. "I have nothing to say on any subject," said the colonel.

Asked No Contribution.

"I asked no man to contribute to the campaign fund when I was elected president of the United States, and I wish to reiterate that Mr. Bliss and Mr. Cortelyou both assured me that no promise had been made as a return for any contribution. Neither they nor any one else having authority asked me to act or refrain from acting in any matter while I was president because any contribution had been made without Gentlemen, could put it more sweepingly."

In these words Col. Roosevelt summarized his testimony today at the close of the first part of his hearing in the committee room resumed after luncheon.

DYNAMITERS' TRIAL STARTED TODAY BY THE PROSECUTION

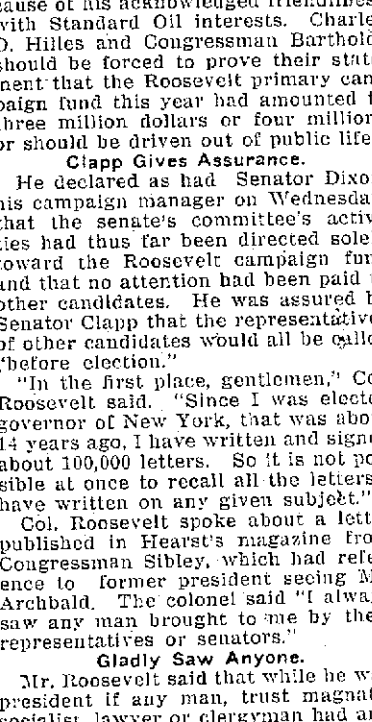

Outline of What They Plan to Prove Given by the Attorney for the Government.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Indianapolis, Oct. 4.—The strongest stuff ever invented was the way Herbert S. Hockin referred to the nitroglycerine when he bought it to carry on a conspiracy, according to the charges presented today, at the trial of the accused "dynamite plotters."

It was after dynamite was found not to be "strong enough" according to District Attorney Charles W. Miller, that the defendants in December, 1909, decided to use nitroglycerine. The details, as charged by Mr. Miller, were: "Ordie McManigle had been blowing up non-union jobs with dynamite and was in Chicago in response to a telegram from Hockin, when he was called to Indianapolis. 'We have decided to use nitro,' said Hockin, 'and we're going down to Muncie to get a supply.' That's

DEFENDANT IN BIG DYNAMITING CASE

J. E. MUNSEY.

J. E. Munsey, business agent of the ironworkers union in Salt Lake City and one of the labor leaders of the west, is one of the defendants in the government's case against the alleged dynamiters at Indianapolis. He is charged with having aided in a conspiracy for the transportation of dynamite.

"They want to Muncie where they met J. B. McManigle. On a pretext that they wanted to experiment they bought from J. B. Kaiser 120 quarts of nitroglycerine. Then they rented a vacant house in which to hide the explosives."

"Neighbors who saw the 'dynamiters' coming and going at night, an express driver who held the explosives, and a grocer who sold boxes are to testify. Muncie for a time formed the headquarters from which the dynamiting crew started on its destructive campaign."

"While the crew was on duty," Mr. Miller asserted, "Charles N. Bonn, Minneapolis; Henry W. Leggett, then in Pittsburgh; Eugene A. Clancy, San Francisco; Frank C. Webb, New York; John T. Butler, Buffalo; and Michael J. Young, Boston, were active in sending information about non-union jobs that were to be blown up where the dynamiters were to go."

"Frank M. Ryan, president of the ironworkers' union, who carried the arrangement by mail," Mr. Miller said, "wrote letters saying, 'Hockin will take care of the jobs at Davenport, Iowa, and Peoria, Ill.'"

"We'll have to send a man to Mt. Vernon, Ill., because Paul J. Morrin, at St. Louis, can't go to Mt. Vernon for he has been there before."

SEVEN LIVES LOST IN WRECK THURSDAY

Total Death List in Railroad Accident At West Jort, Conn., is Announced Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

West Port, Conn., Oct. 4.—The complete death list from the wreck of the N. Y. N. H. & Hartford train bound for New York late yesterday afternoon, has been given as seven. Of the several scores of persons who were more or less seriously injured only two remained at the Norwalk hospital. All these are said to be recovering.

The dead are: Mrs. Jas. C. Brady of New York, wife of son of Anthony M. Brady of Albany; Miss Mary Hamilton, sister of Mrs. Brady; Mrs. E. Palmer Gavit, daughter of A. N. Brady; Mrs. C. Ransom of Albany, sister of Mrs. Brady; Engineer Geo. L. Clark; Fireman J. J. Moker, and Mark Wheeler, mail clerk who died in a hospital.

Medical Examiner Powers, who made the inquest in the undertaking rooms in the hospital late last night made the statement today that the list of dead was seven. It had been thought that there was an eighth body that of a woman, but this was disproven.

The wreck is attributed to the train taking a cross-over at high rate of speed. Two signals set against the train are said to have been disregarded by the engineer.

EIGHTEEN ARRESTS, CHICAGO VICE WAR

District Attorney Wayman Falls Short Of 100 Expected Arrests Today In Vice Crusade.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Instead of the hundred arrests expected in the crusade to clear Chicago of vice the actual count today was just a dozen and a half. Eighteen prisoners were taken by detectives who were armed with 125 warrants for keepers of resorts in the segregated districts. Many of the persons sought were said to have fled from the city. Hundreds of men and boys followed the detectives who made the arrests.

The hunt was confined to south side segregated districts. Others in different parts of the city being left alone for the time being. All of the prisoners taken, quickly obtained release through professional bondsmen.

States Attorney Wayman, who has started the crusade has recently been much criticized for not taking drastic anti-vice measures demanded by the representatives of many federated churches.

A referendum of the segregating of the disorderly places in this city into one district seems as a possibility in the opinion of Mayor Harrison as the result of the sweeping investigation into vice conditions and the issuance of the many warrants for resort keepers by the state attorney's office. Mayor Harrison said today he favored such a referendum, although he would not inaugurate it at this time.

Two Hundred Mexican Rebels Put to Rout.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

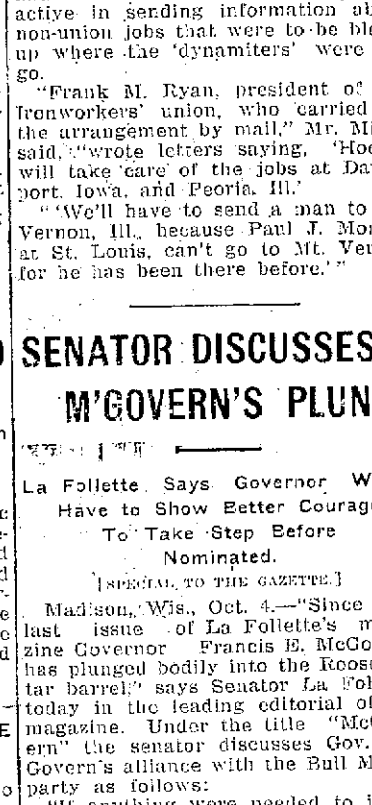

Eagle Pass, Tex., Oct. 4.—Gov. Guzman of the state of Coahuila, Mexico, is authority for the report received here today that two hundred rebels were routed yesterday near Santa Elena by federal troops who captured seventy horses, and all equipment. Further reports of the San Blas battle which occurred two days ago say 135 rebels and 35 federalists killed and 18 federalists wounded.

DISMISSED CASES AGAINST SEVEN DETROIT ALDERMAN.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 4.—Justice E. J. Jeffris today dismissed the cases against seven of the seventeen aldermen charged with conspiracy to defraud the city in connection with closing of a street for the benefit of a railroad. The seven aldermen whose cases were dismissed were not at any time charged with receiving a bribe.

LABOR LEADERS FIGHT TO SAVE SELVES AND A GREAT UNION AT INDIANAPOLIS

R. H. HOULIHAN AND WILLIAM K. BENSON.

The fate of a great labor union, as well as of fifty labor leaders who are charged with a conspiracy to fight their battles with dynamite and nitroglycerin, is to be decided at Indianapolis during the next few weeks. If the government succeeds, it is hardly likely that the great iron workers' union will continue, as practically all of its officers for the last ten years are on the list of defendants.

Among the prominent labor leaders now on trial are William K. Benson, of Detroit, president of the Detroit federation of labor, and R. H. Houlihan, of Chicago, financial secretary of the Chicago Iron Workers local. They are shown in the accompanying picture.

MEANS TO PREVENT INFANT MORTALITY

Superintendent Cary In Address At Cleveland Urges Efficiency In Homes As Fundamental.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 4.—Speaking before the National Society for the prevention of infant mortality here this afternoon State Superintendent C. P. Cary of Wisconsin declared that the general efficiency of the home is fundamental in importance. Mr. Cary has been spending weeks investigating schools in this vicinity and is especially interested in the continuation schools.

Efficiency in Home. "Infant mortality has its broad, general aspect and its narrow and highly specialized phases," declares Mr. Cary. "The general efficiency of the home is fundamental in importance. It is highly desirable that both father and mother should possess specialized knowledge with reference to the care of infants. When we raise the question as to the general efficiency of the family from the point of view of the father, we have in mind his average earning capacity, his physical and mental vigor, his attitude toward family life, and the ethical code generally, including sobriety, thrift, reliability, and sense of workmanship. Ignorance, laziness, selfishness, lack of skill, wrong-mindedness, drunkenness and unreliability, one or more of these shortcomings will be found as the root of most family inefficiency. On the other hand, intelligence, skill, self-respect, and right ideals, together with the economic virtues, practically insure a happy well-nourished, efficient and progressive family. Children born into such an environment are almost certain to live and thrive, and to become respectable, law-abiding citizens."

Teaching Sex Hygiene. "The problems of the continuation schools are to develop, in so far as time and opportunity permit, these qualities that make for general economic and industrial efficiency on the part of progressive fathers of families, and to give such direct instruction in the laws of eugenics and personal hygiene as will tend to produce healthy and vigorous offspring. Sex hygiene is a difficult subject to teach with the proper delicacy and effectiveness. We have not yet developed a technique of instruction or reduced the facts to approved pedagogic form, but all this must be accomplished."

"The problem of such instruction is exceedingly complex, partly for the reason that such prejudice, much in the way of low ideals, much of prudery and much of scepticism stand in the way of bringing this phase of instruction to a successful issue; it will be observed, however, in this, as in all other things, that correct ideas gradually displace false and injurious ideas, and that in the course of time the heaven will penetrate every nook and corner."

"It is especially desirable that both the boys and girls, who, in the main, have either dropped out of school because of lack of interest, or because of economic necessity, and who are thrown early in the adolescent period into contact with the world, with all its wiles and temptations, should be protected in so far as possible by sane and proper instruction concerning the most vital things in life."

REPORT DISCOVERY OF PLOT TO KILL GREEK POPULACE

Reports Received at Athens Say Plans Have Been Made to Assassinate Greeks Now in Albania.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Athens, Oct. 4.—Plans to annihilate all the Greeks now in Albania have been laid, according to reports received this morning from the Greek-Turkish frontier. The report says a Greek notable at Philippiade, has been assassinated.

Arms Outlaws.

The Albanian governor of Janina has created a force of armed military police composed of one hundred outlaws and sent them ostensibly to pursue Greek rebels, but it is alleged that the real object of the expedition is to annihilate all the Greeks in the vicinity.

Blame Greeks. It is also reported that bomb cut-rages are being arranged and the responsibility for them is to be cast on the Greeks in order to provoke their massacre by the Turks.

Cross Frontier. Three battalions of Montenegrin troops are reported to have crossed the Turkish frontier to assist the Malissori tribesmen in checking the approach of the Turkish troops.

Prince George Ready. Copenhagen, Oct. 4.—Prince George of Greece started today for Athens to be ready to join the Greek army should hostilities break out.

Bulgarians Active. Constantinople, Oct. 4.—Detachments of Bulgarian troops today penetrated Turkish territory north of Korchah to the north of Adrianople.

Hope for Peace. Paris, Oct. 4.—Expectations of maintenance of peace in the Balkans were strengthened today by assurances given by the French government that Austria-Hungary was ready to join in a concerted action of the powers to prevent hostilities.

Austria Ready. Austria's attitude in the crisis hitherto had not been clearly defined and her declared decision to act in accord with the other powers is greeted in diplomatic circles as a powerful factor in averting war.

To Avoid Struggle. Premier Raymond Poincare told his colleagues at a meeting of the French cabinet today that the program of the Powers was, in the first place to make every effort to avoid a war; secondly, to localize the war if it should break out, and thirdly to assure in any event the maintenance of existing territorial conditions.

Peace is Near. Paris, France, Oct. 4.—Confirmation of the report from Constantinople that the conclusion of peace between Turkey and Italy is imminent is contained in a semi-official note issued here today based on authoritative advice from Italy.

Say It is Signed. London, Oct. 4.—Peace between Italy and Turkey was signed, according to a news agency dispatch received here from Paris.

Voted to Accept Treaty. Constantinople, Oct. 4.—That the Turkish cabinet voted yesterday to accept Italy's latest proposal for peace was the announcement made today from an authoritative source. Preliminary agreements are to be signed upon the arrival at Ouchy of a special ambassador who has left Constantinople.

Seek Peace. London, Oct. 4.—A more hopeful feeling prevailed today concerning the Balkan situation. Diplomacy which is seeking for peace made progress toward a solution of the crisis. The arrival of the news that the powers have reached a complete agreement and that the Balkan states had modified their demands, was, however, accompanied with further report of fighting on the frontiers.

Looks Like War. Perin, Arabia, Oct. 4.—An Italian cruiser is bombarding the fort at Sheikh Suid, some distance to the north of this island.

The Proposal. Mr. Poincare's proposal for the avoidance of hostilities integrally have been accepted by Sergius Sazonoff, the Russian foreign minister and it is expected they will be ratified in London, Berlin and Vienna.

England Ready. London, Oct. 4.—The British Mediterranean fleet was ordered today to proceed to the Levant according to a news agency dispatch from Gibraltar. The cruiser Weymouth immediately left at full speed for Suda Bay on the north coast of Crete.

WILL EXTRADITE WAUSAU MEN HELD IN CHICAGO.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Marquette, Wis., Oct. 4.—Charles A. Miller, president and Elmer E. Hall, secretary of the Hall, Miller Company of Wausau formerly of Marquette, were arrested in Chicago yesterday charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Regulation papers have been procured and they will be taken to Wausau for examination. Wausau business men were the complainants. They allege that they placed $15,000 in the concern which was removed from Marquette to Wausau. The company manufactured surgical instruments and came to this city from Chicago.

BRITISH SUBMARINE SINKS IN COLLISION

ENTIRE CREW BUT ONE MEET DEATH WHEN BOAT IS HIT BY HAMBURG AMERICAN LINER.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Dover, Oct. 4.—The British submarine B. 2 was run down by the Hamburg American liner Amerika today. It sank at once with fourteen of the crew.

The disaster in which the B. 2 sank occurred while the third patrol flotilla of submarines, consisting of six was maneuvering off the south foreland of the coast of Kent. The liner Amerika appears to have cut the submarine in halves.

Lieut. Richard L. Pullen was the only man among the crew rescued. He was found floating in the sea too exhausted to say more when he was rescued than: "Submarine cut in two, I went down a mile."

The B. 2 left Dover harbor at five this morning, to participate with the other marines in a series of maneuvers. The accident occurred just an hour later.

The young lieutenant collapsed after he had been taken from the water. The liner Amerika stood by after the collision and threw life buoys overboard while the other submarines after being informed by wireless, searched the sea four hours.

None of the other members of the crew were found and no

ST. PAUL MEN NAME SAFETY COMMITTEE

Men Employed on Mineral Point Division Hold Meeting at Depot Last Evening

A meeting of the men of the Mineral Point Division of the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul railway was held at the local depot last evening. The object of the meeting was to organize and elect five members to make a committee to work with the general safety committee of the road. The slogan of "Safety First" was adopted and the feeling which prevailed showed that the men would co-operate with the officials to the best of their ability. A. W. Smallen was the first speaker of the evening and he explained the object of which the meeting was called. He stated that the intention was to adjust everything that was in any way dangerous. There is a much greater number killed nowadays than there were in the days of the link and pin and the hand brake. He said that another company had decreased their accidents fully 50 per cent and the object of this road was to make better records. Mr. Smallen had to leave for Chicago last evening and as he was unable to attend the whole meeting he suggested they elect a committee.

The committee is composed of five men from different departments of the road. Following is the committee elected last evening and the departments they represent: John F. Falter, engineer, Lewis Mickels, brakeman, Emmet Northrup, transfer agent, Robert Young, boiler maker, and John Nash, track department. This committee is to hold office for six months. The men will report to the general committee all repairs that will in any way eliminate danger.

E. W. Morrison Supt. of the Mineral Point division also gave a talk, which consisted mainly of the progress made by other roads in this line. The local men at the meeting were called upon to make a suggestion as to repairs which will add to the general safety of the employees. A. A. Woolf, district carpenter foreman, spoke to the men and told how many serious accidents occurred which would not have happened had some repairs been made before hand. Another meeting of this order will be held in about a month.

CARRIED NEWS OF CRIME TO POLICE

Edward Meyer, Held for Bergsterman Murder, Carried Officer's Message to Roessling Store.

That Edward Meyer, now held with Harry Berger at the county jail for the murder of Matilda Bergsterman, was the young man whom Officer Peter Champion hailed and instructed to have a telephone message sent to the Roessling store, is one of the recent developments in the case. At the time, Officer Champion did not know who the young man was, but it has since been learned that Meyer was the one who brought the message. On arriving at the store, it is said, Meyer hastily entered the store, delivered his message to Mr. Roessling, and departed speedily, going to the stable.

The coroner's jury, which adjourned Wednesday afternoon, after hearing testimony in the inquest, will meet again tomorrow morning at ten o'clock, and a verdict from them is looked for immediately. Additional witnesses may be called in the case.

HEALTH OFFICER IS FUMIGATING SCHOOL

Dr. M. A. Cunningham Today Completely Fumigated Every Room in Jefferson School.

In accordance with the orders of the school board, Dr. M. A. Cunningham today is completely fumigating all the rooms, halls and toilets of the Jefferson school to prevent, if possible, a spread of the infantile paralysis which made its appearance last Monday. Dr. Cunningham thinks that the statement last evening relative to his attitude as to fumigation has done him an injustice. The statement published was credited him by a member of the school board and was published for what it was worth. However the Doctor asks that the following statement made by two citizens who visited him Thursday be made public:

Regarding the fumigation of the Jefferson school building, we are glad to say that the city health officer, Dr. Cunningham, did not object to doing the work and stated that he would be perfectly willing to do it, and would fumigate the building thoroughly. Several fathers from the Third ward called upon the health officer and the members of the school board from our ward, and all expressed a desire to take all necessary precautions.

Absent-Minded Professor.

A certain university professor was noted for his absent-mindedness. One morning as he sat at the breakfast table with a scientific magazine propped up before him, his wife was astonished to see him reach out for the maple sirup, pour it down his back, and lean over and scratch his pate.

ENTERTAIN FOR MAN NEAR CENTURY MARK

Mesdames Pearl and Fred Chesmore Give Party in Honor of Grandfather, Eli Proctor.

Mrs. Pearl Chesmore and Mrs. Fred Chesmore entertained about twenty relatives and old friends at the home of the former in the town of La Prairie, at a one o'clock dinner yesterday in honor of their grandfather, Eli Proctor, who will return to his home in Darien today. The afternoon was pleasantly spent with music, recitations, and talk in over old times. Mr. Proctor, although nearly ninety-one years of age, is hale and hearty, and thoroughly enjoyed visiting with his life-long friends. The guests departed, wishing Mr. Proctor many more years of health and happiness and hoping he would be able to visit them next summer as has been his custom for the past twenty years.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS A SPECIAL MEETING

Accepts Report of Board of Public Works On Contracts Let For Street Improvements.

The City Council met in special session this afternoon to receive and accept the reports of the Board of Public Works on the letting of the contracts for the improvement of Jefferson avenue to P. W. Ryan & Sons and for curb and gutter work on a number of streets to George D. Cannon. This action was taken as promptly as possible in order that the contractors might not be delayed in starting work as the time in which it must be done is very short. It is probable that no more sidewalks will be ordered built this fall as the time is rapidly approaching when concrete work will be made uncertain by heavy frosts. The cement contractors in the city will have all the work they can do to finish the walks already ordered in. The repaving of Washington street will take nearly all the stone that the city crusher can put out the rest of the season. Some will also be needed for surfacing Jefferson avenue according to the contract let yesterday.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Auto Parties: Two automobile parties were registered at the Grand hotel yesterday. They were: Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Stewart and Frank Burke of Rockford, and Mr. and Mrs. John Kane and L. E. Wilson of Chicago.

FOOTBALL STOCK IS WAY ABOVE PAR ON EVE OF FIRST GAME

Janesville Coach and Players Confident of Success in Contest at Stoughton Tomorrow.

Tomorrow, Janesville high school will open athletics for the year, when its strong football team goes to Stoughton where it will clash in the first real test on the gridiron. From what is known of the Stoughton eleven, they are classed as a strong team, and it is up to the locals whether or not they return home victors. Last season Janesville defeated Stoughton on the local gridiron by the score of 6 to 0. But this will not serve as any indication of the result tomorrow, as the rules and players are different, and Janesville will contend with practically a new line. If the line men hold well throughout the game the locals have a good chance of winning; otherwise the score may be against them. Every member of the team is hopeful and optimistic, which will aid materially in a successful result.

With steady practice for three weeks without a game of any sort, Coach Curtis is confident his machine is in condition and looks for a victory. During this strenuous practice the locals have become fit and all the players are in excellent condition.

The Stoughton side-lines will be filled by Janesville boosters who will be on the firing line every minute to cheer the locals on to victory. Enthusiasm at the school has been in full swing for the past week, inspired in great measure by Captain Connell's speech in which he predicted a certain victory.

If this game is won by Janesville there will be a happy throng of rooters from this city present at the train for a rousing greeting to the heroes who held the honor of the local school by playing for every inch of ground to win. If they lose the students will know their team has done its best. A rousing send-off will be given the team on their departure on Saturday at ten-thirty.

The news that Cannon will play tomorrow is another cause for the advance in local football stock. During the entire week, the school and the coach had the impression that he was disqualified. This was only a misunderstanding. Fatter, who was thought to be disqualified, also may play. It is said that he has reasons for not playing, and if this is true, the team will feel his loss considerably. Connell will pilot the squad on the field at right end.

Coach Curtis expressed his confidence in the team today with the following words: "I see no reason why the men cannot clean up a victory at Stoughton tomorrow. By steady practice, in which the players have been eager to make the team, and with twenty-five men working for the same end, a well-rounded team has been developed. With this in mind, we will do our best to win, and start the season with a string of victories." The lineup for tomorrow will be as follows:

L. E. Smiley, S. T. Mohr, L. G. Dalton, C. Cannon, R. G. Koch, R. T. Jones, R. E. Connell, Q. B. Stewart, L. H. Edler, R. H. Cunningham, F. B. Ryan.

BIG GRIDIRON GAMES BEGIN IN THE WEST

Tomorrow Marks Opening of Intercollegiate Football Season—Contests in East and South.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Chicago, Ill., Oct. 4.—Tomorrow will mark the opening of the intercollegiate football season in the West. During the past two weeks some of the eleven have engaged in minor contests, but the most of the big teams will have their first real tests of the season tomorrow. Much interest centers in the game between the University of Chicago and Indiana University here tomorrow. Chicago is expected to be a strong contender this season for the championship honors of the "Big Nine." Michigan will take on the Case school at Ann Arbor tomorrow and Minnesota will line up against Iowa State College at Minneapolis. Also of interest to followers of the game will be the contests between Wisconsin and Lawrence at Madison, Illinois and Illinois Wesleyan at Urbana and Purdue and DePauw at Lafayette. Wabash College and state universities of Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Ohio have minor contests scheduled.

Games in East. New York, Oct. 4.—By far the most pretentious schedule thus far in the football season is due to be carried out tomorrow. Virtually all of the teams representing the prominent Eastern colleges have trying tests in prospect. Yale will take on Syracuse at New Haven and Harvard will play the formidable Holy Cross eleven at Cambridge. Princeton and Lehigh will meet at Princeton. Pennsylvania and Dickinson at Franklin Field and the Carlisle Indians and Washington and Jefferson at Washington, Pa. Cornell and Oberlin will meet at Ithaca in the first intercollegiate contest of the season. West Point will meet Stevens Institute and Annapolis will have Johns Hopkins for an opponent.

SOUTHERNERS LIKE COLONEL'S IDEAS ABOUT WATERWAYS BUT DENY HIM VOTE

Col. Roosevelt in the South.

On his trip through the south Col. Roosevelt was everywhere given a cordial greeting. The southern people were pleased with the stand that he took on the development of the Mississippi river. Roosevelt told them he favored the government's spending as many millions as need be on the great river to make it a highway of commerce. Although the southerners gave the ex-president to understand that they appreciated the fight he is making for the commercial development of the Mississippi valley, they also let it be known that they will not vote for him in very large numbers this fall.

Football in the South.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 4.—Some good contests are promised for tomorrow on college gridirons in the south. Among the games on the calendar are Vanderbilt vs. Maryville College, University of Georgia vs. University of Chattanooga, Virginia vs. Randolph-Macon, University of Alabama vs. Birmingham College, North Carolina vs. Davidson, South Carolina vs. Wake Forest, Louisiana vs. Lafayette, Texas vs. Texas Christian, Mercer vs. Alabama Polytechnic and West Virginia vs. West Virginia Wesleyan.

MEETING TO DISCUSS CITY HEALTH TOPIC

Health Officer Dr. M. A. Cunningham Invites Doctors and Clergymen Of City to Attend.

City Health Officer Dr. M. A. Cunningham has called a meeting of the clergymen and physicians at the assembly room of the city hall tonight, for the purpose of discussing the subject of tuberculosis and the present condition of the public health in this city. The meeting will open at eight o'clock. It is hoped that the attendance will be representative as the questions to be brought up are of great public concern.

MEN'S MACKINAWS

Patrick-Duluth Genuine and Original Mackinaw Cloth Resists Cold, Wind and Moisture.

GUARANTEED ALL-WOOL

Made After An Original and Genuine Mackinaw Process

This celebrated process of mackinaw cloth-making has been handed down from a community of Scandinavian wool-weavers, working with hand looms in the years of Minnesota's first settlement. This has developed into the present Patrick-Duluth Woolen Mill at Duluth. But the original mackinaw method used by the Scandinavian weavers has been carefully preserved. The Old World treatment of the raw wool gives a strong, fleecy cloth of Greatest Warmth for Least Weight. None have been able to duplicate either Patrick Cloth or process.

To make sure that you get the genuine and original mackinaw cloth, insist on the PATRICK-DULUTH TRADE MARK in the mackinaws you buy. This cloth is found only in mackinaws of their own manufacture.

The Process

Long fiber Northern wool treated with a special process which thoroughly cleanses it while preserving the valuable wool lanolin to resist cold, wind and moisture. The lanolin keeps every fiber strong and elastic.

The yarn is snug wove into the cloth with special care that the weave shall be even, close and flawless.

The tight web fabric is then subjected to the genuine Scandinavian triple "fulling" process which shrinks the cloth to three times its original thickness and tightens every wool fiber. This adds greatly to its storm-proof qualities and strength.

Finally the cloth goes through an elaborate and delicate finishing process of steaming, brushing, combing and hot-pressing which brings out a beautiful, fleecy, nap.

The Garments

The design and tailoring of Patrick-Duluth Mackinaws is real mackinaw quality. Years of successful experience and study have given our designs a smartness of tailored style that makes them suitable for all outdoor wear in town and country. The most prominent and fashionable people in every community enjoy wearing these mackinaws. Plain or Norfolk. Plaids or Plain colors. $9.00 to $13.50.

A DEMOCRAT ON DEMOCRACY.

"If we had had such splendidly prosperous business conditions at home it would not be well or wise to alter too rapidly or too radically the system under which these splendidly prosperous business conditions have been developed. Furthermore, we cannot secure the markets of foreign nations merely by reducing our own tariff wall. We must reduce the tariff wall of foreign nations."

"By demolishing our own tariff fence we may get out of our own pasture, but we cannot get into the pasture of foreign nations until we have demolished their tariff fences."

"If we sacrifice our protective policy we sacrifice our one opportunity to lower the tariff bars of foreign countries. It is only by reciprocity that the tariff bars of foreign countries can be lowered."

"If we maintain our protective fence we can say to foreign countries: 'We will lower our bars to your products if you will lower your bars to our products.' But if we have no tariff fences we can make no such beneficial bargain."

"Mr. Wilson's dogmatic and didactic declarations have all the positiveness of the pedagogue who has theories on everything and experience in nothing. His is the customary attitude of the college professor who knows everything, having read it in books, where it was written down by other college professors with equally infallible knowledge based on equally universal experience."

"It is an interesting thing to see a college professor lecturing practical business men on the practical problems of business from the musty rooms of one of the colleges which the practical success of these business men had enabled them to endow."

No one has ever accused William Randolph Hearst of being anything but a democrat, yet the above terse paragraphs, from a recent interview, indicate that he is not in sympathy with his party, and has no use for its pedagogic candidate. Mr. Hearst expresses the sentiment which prevails in the ranks of conservative democracy in all parts of the country. This class of men will help to make good the slump in the republican party caused by the bull moose movement.

"The democratic party, in its platform, adopted at Baltimore, declares that the protective system is unconstitutional. Professor Wilson is a confessed free trader. He testified before the tariff board in 1882 that he was in favor of the repeal of all protective laws and made the absurd statement that because the states in this Union allowed free interchange of commerce, there should be a similar free interchange between the United States and all the producing countries of the world. This illogical, unpatriotic and absolutely destructive theory would be put into effect if Professor Wilson should be elected president. He would be ably seconded in his efforts by Champ Clark, speaker of the democratic house of representatives, who publicly declared upon the floor of congress that he was in favor of destroying every custom house in the land."

These are the principles of democracy and it is not surprising that thinking men, who have property interests at stake, refuse to endorse them, or that they regard Professor Wilson as a theorist, and totally unqualified for the high office of president.

People who are out with an axe, and whose war cry is, "Anything to beat Taft," may be interested to know what Colonel Roosevelt thinks of Professor Wilson, and his party. Here is a paragraph from his pen, in the Outlook of July 27.

"If Dr. Wilson were elected, he would either have to repudiate the promises made about the tariff in the democratic platform or else bring every industry in the country to a crash which would make all panics in our past history seem like child's play in comparison. In short, were Dr. Wilson elected on this platform, he would be obliged at the very outset of his administration to face the alternatives of dishonesty or disaster, the alternatives of refusing to carry out the expressed pledges of the platform, or else of causing such disaster to every worker in the country as would mean nation-wide ruin."

Since writing this article, Colonel Roosevelt has been even more emphatic. He said at the Minnesota state fair recently that if the tariff plank of the democrats should be enacted into law, it would plunge this country into a period of commercial disasters such as we have not seen in a lifetime. At St. Louis in a speech, Colonel Roosevelt made the following observation:

"I believe that if Mr. Wilson's free trade policy or tariff for revenue only policy in good faith adopted and is not a mere campaign cry, widespread disaster will result to American life." There's nothing in a change of administration but an experiment. Better not try it.

The 'straw vote' is as much of a snare and delusion as the primary election, and the man who bets his money on the results of either, deserves to lose. An effort was made in St. Louis, the other day, to size up political sentiment, and out of 150,000 registered voters it was found that $5,000 were republican, 45,000 democratic and the balance, except about 1,100 for Roosevelt, were socialists. What St. Louis will do in November is as clear as mud.

The campaign book, published by the state at ten dollars a throw, for the benefit of state and legislative candidates, is proving both a farce and fizzle. When the average candidate sets down to write his own obituary, he soon discovers a scarcity of material in the column of virtues, which he desires to exploit, and so throws up the job in disgust. As a result the campaign book is mostly white paper and a waste of good material. Perhaps the financial managers of the most progressive state in the Union, can trade the product for another cuspidor.

That it requires money, and plenty of it, to run a campaign, is evidenced by the investigation now going on in Washington, and that Colonel Roosevelt has shared liberally in these contributions, during his campaigns, is not a question of doubt. To say that much of this kind of money is corrupt, is an easy way to dispose of a practice which has long existed, but in many cases the charge is unjust and not susceptible of proof.

The papers of the country are complying promptly with the new postal laws, and as inside information is furnished the people discover that conditions are not so bad as painted. The average publisher is honest, and while subject to more advice as to how his business should be managed than any other class of business men, he usually manages to meet the world with a smile. There's lots of fun in the business but very few gold mines.

Senator La Follette has decided to support McGovern. Why? Simply because he wants a legislature which he can control, and he hopes to hold enough votes in line, for the mongrel ticket, to accomplish his purpose. The capitol should be cleaned out from top to bottom, and as every man in the state is urged to be an independent voter, and the governor and senator have set the pace, this ought to be a good year for house-cleaning.

A gentleman who lives in California was in the city yesterday. He said that the Roosevelt sentiment was on the decline, and that he could not carry the state. A big noise is sometimes deceptive.

THE PRESS AND POLITICS.

An Unfortunate Course. Dunn County News: The course Governor McGovern has chosen to pursue is unfortunate both for himself and for the party. No one denies his right to support whomsoever he chooses for president, but there are many who decidedly question the propriety of his standing for the election of a man who at this moment is moving heaven and earth to destroy the party to which the governor looks for his own re-election.

Those who no longer regard the governor as a Republican naturally feel that their party is without a candidate of its own for the high office which he is endeavoring to retain. In many quarters a demand is being made that he vacate the ticket. This he is unlikely of course to do. What the result will be cannot be forecasted, but one thing can be said with certainty and that is that the course pursued by Gov. McGovern has unfortunately weakened the chances of Republican success in Wisconsin this fall.

Republicans Released. Grant County Herald: McGovern is the candidate for governor upon the republican ticket, having been renominated for that office in the September primaries, under the supposition that he would support republican policies. Roosevelt no longer claims to be a republican and has nothing good

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON.

Consolation.
When the world seems dark and gloomy
And you're feelin' mighty blue,
And you think that old dame Fortune
Has the Chinese curse on you,
It will bring a lot of comfort,
Though the pessimist may scoff,
To consider some poor fellow
Who's a hundred times worse off.

If your finances are droopin'
In a dismal sort of way,
And you owe someone five dollars
That you think you ought to pay,
While you may think you surely
Are the most forlorn of men,
You're exactly twice as well off
As the fellow that owes ten.

When your clothes are gettin' shabby
And your friends begin to think
That you've hit the steep toboggan
And you're surely on the blink,
When this summer you are wearin'
The same duds you wore last fall,
Just consider well the Zulus
Who can't have any clothes at all.

When you've got a jumpin' headache
And you think there ain't no chance
That you're going to live till mornin',
And your nerves all seem to dance,
Just consider some poor fellow
With sciatic rheumatiz,
Who's been laid up since 'Christ-mas,
And compare your woe with his.

No use kickin' on your troubles,
You can't dodge 'em and I guess
That while everybody has 'em,
Some have more and some have less.
You can just defy dame Fortune
And her vaunted Chinese curse,
For no matter much what happens,
It might be a whole lot worse.

Personal.
 Sylvia Bird:—You say that you sent a love story to a New York magazine nearly a week ago and have not yet received a check for it; also that you are very anxious. Our advice is not to begin to worry until about one year after you send the story. In the meantime it will probably come back to you with a neat note of apology, telling you that your story is too good to print. We sent one eighteen years ago and have been sending it to different magazines to say for that party. Many republicans think that in his present attitude the governor releases them from obligation to support his candidacy, so long as he withdraws his support from the republican national ticket.

What the senator's attitude will be now is not yet announced, but it is difficult to see how he can consistently fight Roosevelt as he is doing and at the same time advocate the election of McGovern, who is supporting Roosevelt and fighting the head of the republican national ticket. It's a political mess, sure enough, whatever the further developments may be.

As Against a "Wind-Jammer."

Marquette Eagle-Star: Theodore Roosevelt has in times past emphasized in his preachments the value of the man who does things. It is because the American people have found that President Taft is the kind of man who does things, that they are going to stand by him and see that he remains in the White House another four years.

Crane's Attitude.

Milwaukee Free Press: Mr. Crane says that he did not give $70,000 to the La Follette and $70,000 to the Wilson pre-convention campaigns. He gave only $20,000 to each. Well, the amount is not so important. He was contributing to republican and democratic candidates impartially. Mr. Crane's platform was any way to beat Taft, and to "get even." On that platform the only reason he did not also contribute to Roosevelt and Debs, we suppose, was that in his judgment they had no show to defeat Taft.

every year since. We started with the Century and may be able to land it in the Police Gazette in a decade or so from now, and then, again, we may not. He not discouraged, fair one, the worst is yet to come.

Hortense:—It is not likely that the young man has forsaken you, just because he hasn't written to you since Tuesday. Maybe he hasn't got a stamp. Send him one or two occasionally. Don't be a tightwad.

Bob Fitz:—You ask how much whisky to put into a Bull Moose highball. Two horns, of course.

Yes, "We Could Live Without These." Old-fashioned mustard plasters. Detachable cuffs. Political conventions. Bridge whist. English comic papers. Literary critics who can't write. Hot mine pie. Homemade shirts. Sleeveless. Friends who tell us things for our own good.

Honeyfuglers. The duck who lets his wife pick out his clothes. The little old party with side whiskers who always squeezes the ladies' hands. The young man who occupies the girl's hammock all summer, but doesn't pop.

The agreeable gentleman who stands down at the end of the bar all day, waiting for the live ones to blow in. The village swain who drops in at the millinery store to gossip with the milliner about the ice cream social. The lady who prices everything in the store and feels of all the goods, but doesn't buy anything.

Life's Little Ironies.

Walking a mile to a long-distance telephone station and finding that the call was for some other gink with the same name as yours. Sending away $10 for a steel engraving of George Washington and receiving a 2-cent stamp in return. Rejoicing when a family with nine children moves out of the neighborhood and then having one with eleven children move into the same house. Carrying home a punk watermelon. Finding a roll of bills in the street and having about three hundred people see you pick it up.

Rumanian Amazons.

M. Vechu, the superintendent of a large farm at Buzco, Rumania, was attacked by an army of 50 women, says a Bucharest correspondent. M. Vechu had refused to allow their cows to graze on his land and to frighten the deputation away he had fired over the heads of the women. Infuriated the milkmaids rushed upon him and it was only by the intervention of some shepherds that he was rescued from their vengeance.

Tip Philosophy.

"Pink, I'm afraid you are wasting your time brushing my hat. I don't seem to have anything smaller than a $10 bill." "I kin change dat all right, boss." "Then you don't need the tip. So long, Pink."—Chicago Tribune.

The Store That Has Always Set The Standard:

In every art there is someone so much more skilled than others as to set a standard—just so in the business world. In every city there is a concern that sets the pace. This Big Store has been the recognized mercantile leader for many years. This prestige is being maintained and broadened every day. The very fact that this concern was founded over fifty-six years ago, and each year showing a sure and steady growth, is proof positive that the house is solid from the foundation; that it has the elements to "make good." All this is simply prefatory to the one idea we wish to get before you: The Big Store is the house for satisfactory and economical shopping. Try our Opening for Autumn tomorrow. It will prove a revelation.

"How did the Bird know that?"

The function of this store is to serve you always—in a way you want to be served.

"Gentlemen— Speaking of quality—you all know the store that stands for that first, last and all the time.

In sundries— In filling prescriptions— In their various remedies— "That's the store and the druggist in whom you can place your confidence.

This store! "Gentlemen:— "Tomorrow we will place on sale our celebrated La Marca, regular 10c value, at 5c straight, for Saturday and Sunday.

"The sweetness of low price seldom equals the bitterness of poor quality."

MRS. JAMES KEMMETT SEVERELY WOUNDED

Confined to Her Apartments in the Grubb's Flats—Condition Not Serious.

Mrs. James Kemmett, proprietress of a millinery shop, 302 West Milwaukee, shot herself in the right side and a serious wound was inflicted yesterday morning shortly after ten. Despondency over business matters is thought to have caused Mrs. Kemmett to have become mentally deranged and the wound might have been most serious except that the bullet struck a rib and was diverted. Mrs. Kemmett is reported as improving today.

REGULAR MEETINGS ARE HELD THURSDAY

Laurean and Philotaxian Societies in Weekly Session At High School.

Anecdotes served as the means of answering roll call at the regular meeting of the Philotaxian yesterday. The different societies take up the procedure of their meetings certain times during the year, by having parliamentary practice. This has proven to be very instructive to the members of the various societies. The Philotaxian dispensed with their regular topics and debate yesterday to take up this work. Grace McMay took the chair and she proved capable of handling the situation in a very courteous manner. Francis Brown acted as critic because of the absence of Miss Grace Mount.

Roll call was answered at the Laurean yesterday by some brief account of interest relating to some fact which each member participated in during the vacation months. These proved to be especially interesting as most of them were witty and well given. Following this, short topics of summer life and trips by various members were given.

"Camping at Lampedusa" was presented by Alta Fife. A story on "What I did up North" was given by Francis Granger, who has been camping in the northern woods for the past summer. Francis Jackman referred in general to "A House Party up the River" which proved interesting to the other members. The number was well presented by Margaret Jeffris on "My Trip East."

VOVEL KNITTED HAT
FOR THEATRE WEAR

A pretty wool head covering for opera and theatre wear with high eared crown will be one of the novelties for the coming winter season. This hood is very light and in addition to keeping the wearer warm, will keep the hair from flying about. When removed the hood can be snuffed in the muff or coat pocket.

KING COWLES &
FIFIELD

Queen Elizabeth's Pedigree.
One of the most interesting curiosities at Hatfield is the pedigree of Elizabeth, which is to be seen in the gallery. Those entrusted to make out the document wisely discovered that her descent could be traced through every important person, and especially through every beautiful person, straight back to Adam and Eve. It is on record that the Virgin Queen highly commended the work.—London Evening Standard.

The Downtrodden Farmer.
An Ottawa man heard that a farmer wanted to sell a motor car. He sympathized with the poor farmer and his family because they were forced to part with the machine for financial reasons, he believed, and went out to the farm to buy it. The farmer was not at home, but his daughter was there. "I came out to buy your car," he said. "Which one?" asked the girl.—Kansas City Star.

Takes Laurels From Brooklyn.
"Don't call Brooklyn the City of churches," says a Globe Trotter, who is equally familiar with the Hudson, the Rhine, the Ganges and the Nile. There is a city in India which is looked upon as "holy" by Buddhists and Brahmins which might dispute the title. Benares has about 2,000 temples and in these and fixed in the narrow streets where the public is free to worship are about 500,000 idols. According to Hindoo belief, it is the gate to paradise, to which all who dwell within its walls enter immediately.

The Viewpoint.
Golfer—"Have you seen my ball, sir?" Wounded Party—"Yes, sir; there it is, confound you. Nearly killed—" Golfer—"Jove! Bit of luck, eh? I thought it was going out of bounds."—Punch.

Making His Opportunity.
A New York banker has made it the rule of his life never to swear except when he drops his watch, as he sometimes does absent-mindedly, and breaks it. Under strong provocation he took out his watch and flung it on the marble floor of his office. So, it seems, when you put your mind on it there is a way to solve every problem.

Timely Warning.
"My good man, they need laborers badly in the next town." "Thanks for the warning, boss. I'll make a detour."

Apt Misquotation.
The minister was attempting to carve a very tough fowl at the dinner. As he was trying to separate one of the joints it slid out of the dish to the other side of the table. He calmly picked it up and gravely said: "What God hath joined together let no man put asunder."—Ladies' Home Journal.

GIVE BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR TWIN DAUGHTERS

Home of Mr. and Mrs. William Schrub at Edgerton Was Scene of a Pleasant Children's Party.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Edgerton, Oct. 4.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Schrub on Front street was the scene of a happy gathering yesterday afternoon, being the seventh birthday of their twin daughters, Misses Edith and Wilma. Little girl school and playmates to the number of twenty-four gathered by special invitation participated in the happy event, beginning at 3:30 and lasting until 6:30 o'clock. The time was spent in music and games and at 5:30 o'clock twenty-four smiling faces sat down to a well filled table and partook of an elegant four course dinner. On the table were also two birthday cakes, each bearing seven candles. After the spread Mrs. J. C. Spillman entertained the gathering with musical selections on the piano and at the close each guest present presented tokens to the birthday celebrants. The rooms were tastefully decorated with flowers and autumn foliage. It was a happy and most brilliant event.
Band Concert.
Following is the program to be rendered at Saturday night's open air concert:

READY FOR SECOND TRIAL OF ALLISON MACFARLAND

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Newark, N. J., Oct. 4.—Prosecutor De Mott announced today the practical completion of all arrangements for the second trial of Allison MacFarland, the alleged wife poisoner. The case had been set for next Monday, but owing to a rearrangement of the docket the trial will not begin until a week later. The first trial resulted in MacFarland's conviction and sentence to death. At the coming trial the most important witness for the defense will be Miss Bromley of Philadelphia, for love of whom MacFarland is alleged to have brought about the death of his wife by placing a bottle of cyanide where she would mistake it for headache powder. Miss Bromley did not testify at the first trial of the case.

UNIVERSITY GYMNASIUM FOR POLITICAL MEETINGS

Regents Decide To Allow Each Party Use of Building For One Gathering During Campaign.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Oct. 4.—James F. Trotman, of Milwaukee, president of the University of Wisconsin board of regents, announced today that each of the political parties will be allowed the use of the University of Wisconsin gymnasium for one meeting only during the autumn campaign. The gymnasium is always much in demand for big gatherings as it is the largest seating capacity of any building in Madison.
The provision is made by the board of regents that any political party having the use of the gymnasium as a meeting place, shall pay all expenses incurred in connection with the meeting. The further provision is made that the party wishing the use of the building must make satisfactory arrangements with President Charles R. Van Hise of the state university so that there shall be no interference with the use of the gymnasium for regular university purposes.

SPECIAL DEMONSTRATION and Sale on Great Majestic Ranges

ONE WEEK ONLY

Commencing Monday, October 7th

ONE WEEK ONLY

SAVE $8.00

As a special inducement during our demonstration week only, with every MAJESTIC RANGE sold (prices always the same) we will give free one handsome set of ware as illustrated here.

Every piece of this ware is the best of its kind. Not a piece that is not needed in every kitchen. It cannot possibly be bought for less than $8.00. This ware is on exhibition at our store. DON'T FAIL TO SEE IT.

SPECIAL

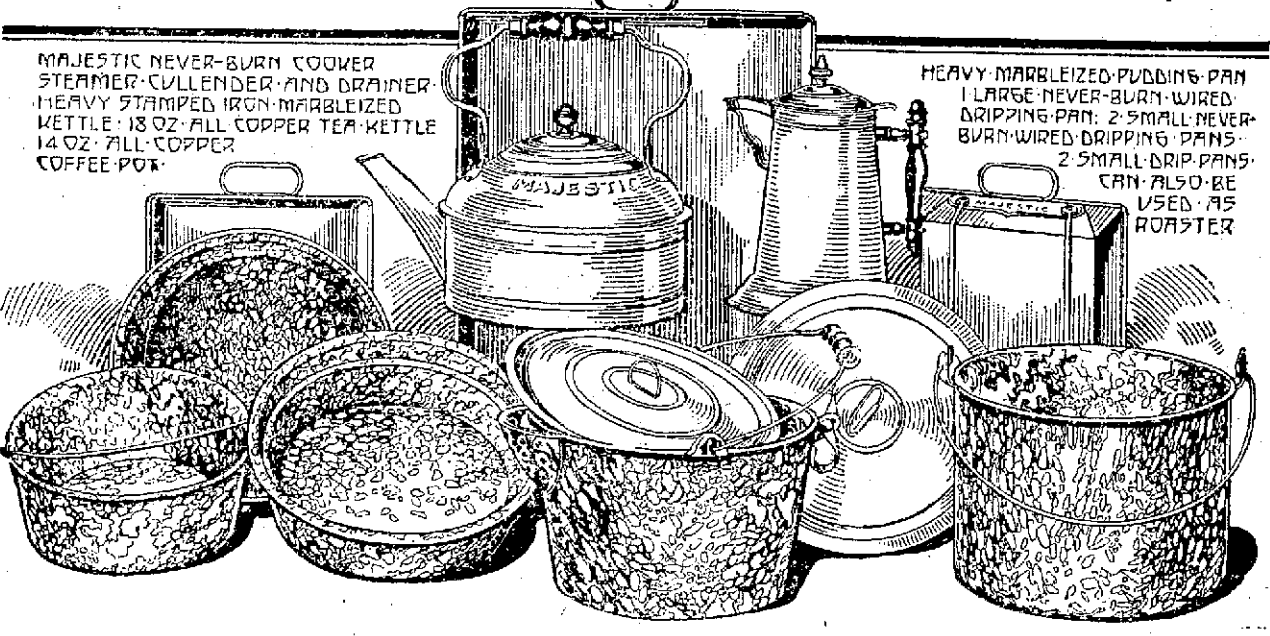

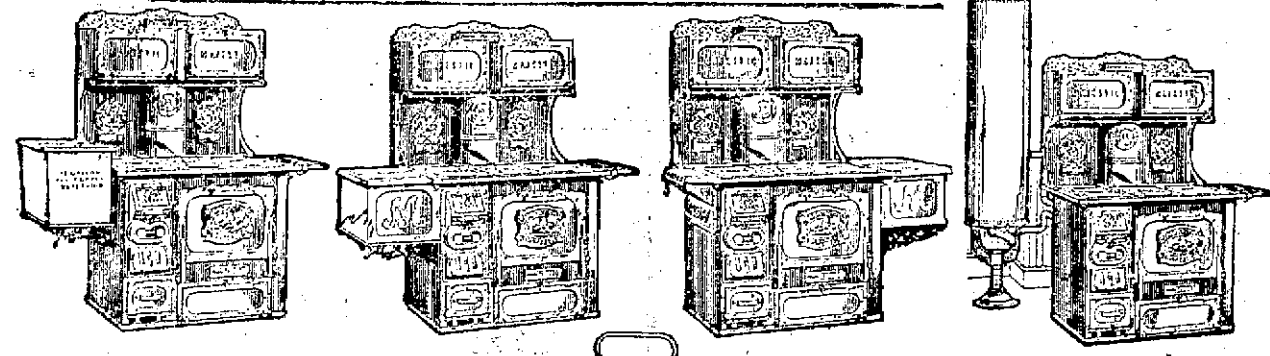

All during this week a special demonstrator direct from the MAJESTIC FACTORY will be glad to show you "ALL ABOUT RANGES"—SHOW YOU why the MAJESTIC is the best range on earth at any price.

COME, IF YOU INTEND TO BUY OR NOT.

EDUCATION lies in KNOWING THINGS—KNOW why the oven of a range is heated—KNOW how the water is heated—HOW the top is heated—WHY the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel—KNOW how a range is made inside and outside. This education may serve you in the future. DON'T OVERLOOK a chance to KNOW THINGS shown by one who knows. COME.

SET OF WARE FREE

MAJESTIC RANGES ARE MADE IN ALL SIZES AND STYLES

MAJESTIC NEVER-BURN COOKER STEAMER-COLLENDER-AND DRAINER HEAVY STAMPED IRON-MARBLIZED KETTLE-13 OZ. ALL COPPER TEA KETTLE 14 OZ. ALL COPPER COFFEE POT

HEAVY-MARBLIZED-PUDDING-PAN 1 LARGE NEVER-BURN WIRE-DRIPPING-PAN 2 SMALL NEVER-BURN WIRE-DRIPPING-PANS 2 SMALL DRIP-PANS CAN ALSO BE USED AS ROASTER

WHICH SHALL IT BE?

Do you intend to continue laboring, burning valuable fuel and destroying high priced food with that old worn-out cook stove?

You KNOW that old stove eats up a lot of fuel each year.

You KNOW you have trouble in getting it to bake just right, in fact, spoil a batch of bread every once in a while—you know it costs considerable for yearly repairs. Stop and think and figure.

Wouldn't it pay you to buy a good range—a range with a reputation—

The Great Majestic Malleable and Charcoal Iron Range?

You make no mistake in buying the GREAT MAJESTIC—it's the range with THE REPUTATION—ask your neighbors. Then, too, it's made just right and of the right kind of material—MALLEABLE AND CHARCOAL IRON—riveted together practically air tight—lined with pure asbestos board—parts being malleable can't break—has a movable reservoir and an oven that don't warp—that's why the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel, bakes just right every day in the year (browns bread just right all over without turning), heats 15 gallons of water while breakfast is cooking—properly handled lasts a lifetime, and costs practically nothing for repairs.

Don't buy the range you expect to last a lifetime unsight unseen, you'll be sure to be disappointed. Come to our store during demonstration week, see the GREAT MAJESTIC—have its many exclusive features explained—find out why the MAJESTIC is 300% stronger than other ranges where most ranges are weakest.

Don't Overlook the Date. This is a Special Invitation to You and Your Friends and Neighbors.

PRESENCE OF MARINES AND LOSS OF THEIR LEADER CAUSE NICARAGUAN REBELS TO LOSE HEART; INSURRECTION NEAR END

American Marines in Nicaragua, Admiral Southerland and President Diaz.

Late advices from Nicaragua confirm the report that the revolution in that country is practically at an end. The capture of the rebel leader, Mena, and the presence of 2,000
marines under Admiral Southerland are the two factors working most strongly for peace. President Diaz is now reported as confident that he can handle the situation alone, and that the presence of American marines in the country is no longer required as a measure of protection for Americans and other foreigners.

AFTON

Afton, Oct. 3.—The Ladies' Aid society will meet with the president,
Mrs. Lizzie Eddy, Wednesday, Oct. 9, at 2 o'clock. This will be an important meeting as it is the annual business meeting and election of officers will be held. It is hoped that all ladies will be present, especially all who do not desire an office are requested to be present.

W. J. Miller of Crookston, Minnesota, formerly of Afton, wrote friends last week that his crops were under snow and ice and that the streams in his vicinity were frozen over. The wet weather has troubled that section of the country all the fall, making the harvesting of their crops difficult.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Woodstock entertained friends from Beloit, Sunday.

Miss Edith Marcussen returned to her home at Plattville Monday after an extended visit with Mrs. Eva Grit-ten and friends in Janesville.

Mrs. Geo. Otis entertained Mr. and Mrs. Spoon of Janesville and Mrs. S.
Goss of Beloit last Friday. Mrs.
Goss was on her way home from Janesville where she had been for several days, caring for her sister, Mrs. Josephine Antidel, who has been quite sick with stomach trouble.

She is much improved.
Mrs. Roy Antidel spent Monday in Beloit with relatives.
The burning of the box car at Afton
Monday night, destroying twelve trunks and bedding and other articles caused no little excitement for the time, especially among the Italian owners of the goods. It was fortunate that it was a quiet evening for had there been a strong wind from the north it would have been a difficult matter to have saved the Bartels house, or the creamery, and probably the mill would also have been burnt.
Miss Selma Hammel spent a couple of days at the fair at Watertown last week.

Miss Albert Stark is visiting relatives at Oconomowoc for a few days
this week.

John and Ehler Brinkman were business callers in Beloit Thursday.

Mrs. Wilson of Wisner, Neb., came
Sunday to care for her mother, Mrs.
Joseph Williams, who has been sick for a long time, and at this writing is very low.

John Inman and daughters, with their car of household goods, have arrived from Missouri and will make their home here.

AFTON GIRL IS BROUGHT HERE TO HAVE GONE SET

Ten Year Old Daughter of J. L.
Clark Fell Out Of Tree And Broke Her Right Arm.

Falling fifteen feet to the ground from a tree which she had climbed the 10-year-old daughter of J. L. Clark of Afton suffered a fracture of her right arm yesterday and was brought to this city for surgical attention.
The bone was set by Dr. Guy C.
Wauke, who was obliged to place his patient under the influence of an anaesthetic because of the intense pain she suffered. Mr. Clark and his daughter had the misfortune of missing the train home and as the little girl was still under the influence of ether, had to carry her back from the station to the Baker drug store.

RECEIVERSHIP SUIT
NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

State Insurance Commissioner Ekern
Issues Statement Reassuring
Wisconsin Policyholders.

Several hundred Janesville policyholders in the Bankers' Association of Des Moines, Ia., and the Bankers' Life company, have no cause for alarm at the receivership suit which has been brought in Indianapolis for the possession and control of $18,000,000 assets, according to a statement issued by State Insurance Commissioner H.
L. Ekern today. Mr. Ekern's exposition of the case will be of interest.

A Change Imperative.
"The newspapers' report of a suit against the Bankers' Life company, formerly the Bankers' Life Association of Des Moines, have brought numerous inquiries to this department in regard to the change by this company from an assessment association to a plan of writing its new business only upon the legal reserve basis, and as to the effect of this change upon the rights of the holders of the old assessment contracts," states Insurance Commissioner Herman L. Ekern today. "This association was organized to do an insurance business on practically the current cost assessment plan. This plan works well enough during the first ten or twenty or even thirty years, while practically all the members are within the ages from twenty to fifty,

where the current costs of insurance per year per $1,000 range from $7.81 at age twenty to $13.78 at age fifty.
But the plan becomes grossly inequitable and ultimately impossible when any considerable number of members reach the higher ages,
where the costs of insurance per year per $1,000 range from $20.69 at age sixty to $41.99 at age seventy and $114.47 at age eighty. These are so grossly disproportionate to the costs of the members between twenty and fifty that on any plan which does not assess to each member his own costs the younger members soon object and discontinue and others refuse to come in, leaving the old members. This association was reaching the time when this increased cost would soon be felt.

Legal Reserve Plan.

"In October, 1911, it changed its plan to provide that contracts thereafter should only be issued on the legal reserve plan. The new plan provides for safeguarding the rights of the old members by requiring that their reserves and guarantee funds and earnings shall be held exclusively for their benefit and paid out only according to the terms of their certificates.

"The new plan further provides that the old members may surrender their certificates and transfer to the new plan on such terms as may be provided by the board of directors.
The only criticism which has been made to this department has been that the amount allowed to the old members on a transfer of their certificates to the plan is too small. A report of an examination made by the towa department at the time of the adoption of the new plan shows that the records and accounts and assets of the association were found to be correct and to correspond with their annual statements.

"The old assessment contracts will probably be good and reasonably cheap insurance for temporary protection for the next few years only. However, being on the assessment plan, they cannot guarantee satisfactory insurance in the long run. The company was licensed on the new plan subject to an examination which it is the expectation of this department to make in the near future, and at that time to go into the question of the rights of the old members as between themselves and in case of a transfer.

"The newspaper reports indicate that the suit brought is for an accounting and to raise some question in regard to the adoption of the new plan by the company. The fact of the bringing of this suit need cause no anxiety to either the old members or the new policy-holders."

Defender of Apaches Debarred.
One Paris lawyer had his name struck off the rolls because it was discovered that he acted as the regular legal adviser of the apache fraternity, from which he drew $6,000 annually in fees. One day he was engaged to defend an apache in a suburban court.
His client was not satisfied with the lawyer's procedure in the case, and after a heated argument outside the court the client threw the lawyer into

THERE are always two parts of the cost of a paint-job to think of: one, first cost; the other, how long it lasts.

Painters hold that a paint that wears three years is a good paint; they usually advise re-painting in three years.

Devco Lead-and-Zinc Paint more often lasts six than three; sometimes ten, twelve; or more.

It's the way it's made and what it's made of that does it. Get Devco here.

Harold Jackson came back from the Janesville hospital Wednesday. His friends and neighbors are glad to see him back and heartily congratulate him on his good recovery from a dangerous operation.

Unpoetic.

"I shall leave footprints on the sands of time," said the idealist. "What for?" asked the crudely practical person. "Nobody will want to go round looking for footprints. What we want to do for posterity is the help build some good roads."

PLAYGROUND BENEFIT IS WELL PATRONIZED

Good Sized Audience Sees Performance of "Tompkin's Hired Man," By Company of Amateurs.

Receipts from the performance of "Tompkin's Hired Man," by the Bower City Theatrical Company at the Myers opera house last night considerably augmented the public playground fund, a good sized audience witnessing the production. The comedy was staged and acted in a manner very creditable to the promoters and actors and disclosed talent that should be given opportunity for further development in future amateur theatricals. The stage settings were well planned and executed and the rural quaintness of the costume and "make-up" caused great merriment.

Grace Bissel as "Louise" displayed praiseworthy restraint in a part that might easily be overdone, spoke her lines clearly and appeared entirely at ease on the stage. Agnes Schumacher showed much vivacity and sprightliness in the part of Ruth, and Nannie Grundy a keen appreciation of the role of jealous and intriguing "Julia."

The part of "Dixey" the hired man, by far the most difficult role was well acted by Edward Funk. Charles Field, Frank Kertzman and Carl Rogge and Maybelle Dickinson also are entitled to commendation for the manner in which they acted their parts. The cast of the comedy and synopsis are as follows:

Mr. Asa Tompkins Chas. Field
A prosperous farmer who cannot tolerate deceit.

Dixey Edward Funk
The hired man. One of nature's noblemen.

John Remington Carl Rogge
A fine young man in love with Louise.

Jerry Frank Kertzman
A half grown awkward country lad.

Louise Grace Grundy
The only child born to Mr. and Mrs. Tompkins.

Ruth Agnes Schumacher
A niece of Mr. Tompkins, boarding at the Tompkins' homestead.

Mrs. Sarah Tompkins Maybelle Dickinson
A woman with a secret that embitters her.

Act I.—Kitchen in the Tompkins' farmhouse.

1. "Sonbonnet Sue" by Agnes Schumacher, Grace Bissel, Nannie Grundy, Maybelle Dickinson.

2. Reading—Piano Music Maybelle Dickinson

Act II.—Farmhouse kitchen as in Act I. A rainy day.

1. "Nothing But a Wax Doll" Agnes Schumacher, Nannie Grundy, Bessie Bissel.

Act III.—Scene same as in Acts I and II. "All's well that ends well." Song by entire company.

WINSLOW DELIVERY HORSE ATTEMPTS TO MAKE RECORD.

Ran Away Early Last Evening And Covered Distance to Island At Marathon Speed.

Untethered and the coast clear, the long rangy horse of E. R. Winslow driven on his delivery wagon saw an opportunity to substantiate the claims made for his speed for a large and attractive crowd of observers at about six o'clock last night and started at a lively pace down South Main street. As he ran he gathered momentum and when he crossed Milwaukee street his speed would make minor her jealous. The race ended at the island, where its driver again took it in charge.

TWO BIRTHDAYS OBSERVED WITH AN ALL DAY PICNIC.

DREAMS

(By Howard L. Rann.)

A DREAM is a series of original moving pictures which are given for the first time on any stage. Nearly all the dreams now in circulation spring from the vindictive misce pie or the bloodcurdling mystery story.

A sweet dream is one in which some distant relative is about to die unexpectedly and leave the dreamer several blocks of city property. The shock on awakening from a dream of this nature is too great to be spoken of in a spirit of levity.

A bad dream is the kind which leaves a man on the main street of his home city, clad in his night dress and a deep, purple blush. Many a modest citizen, on awakening from a dream of this revolting character, has immediately gotten out of bed and put on all the clothes he could find in the house, to guard against walking in his sleep.

The most terrifying dream on record is known as the nightmare, which is always throwing a man off the high bridge or burying him under twelve feet of coal slack. This dream is usually accompanied by some of the most ear-splitting vocal exercises to be heard outside of a conservatory of music.

Science has never discovered a sure cure for dreaming. Physicians say it is due to sleeping in a position out of plumb with the force of gravity. For instance, if a man is accustomed to sleeping on the small of his back, they advise him to assume a sitting posture and think of something else, like the monthly bills or an overdue note. With some men, however, this only brings on a double-decked nightmare.

Some people never have any dreams at all, and sleep so soundly that they can't hear a stentorian request for kindness. Others will start a film going the minute they hit the pillow, and tear off reel after reel without observing a halt note rest.

The best way to get rid of a dream which hangs around two or three nights in succession is to get up and walk around the block, meanwhile repeating some favorite poem. Nothing is more exasperating than a dream which never arrives at any particular destination and is always coming back to finish something it started to say.

There Was a Man In Our Town

and he was Wondrous Wise--

You couldn't fool Him, Oh No!

He had drank coffee for years. Coffee didn't hurt him.

But The Bump Came

Many a man is pretty sure that while coffee may hurt others it don't hurt him--till the bump comes.

But when headache, frazzled nerves, an irritable heart, indigestion and sleeplessness begin to "get him," he's apt to look around for a reason.

The reason is plain when a change is made from coffee to

POSTUM

This pleasant table drink much resembles real Java coffee in flavour, but is free from "caffeine" (the drug in coffee) or any other harmful substance.

Postum, made from choice Northern wheat and the juice of Southern sugar cane, has put many former coffee drinkers on the Road to Wellville.

COMES A TIME When Coffee Shows What It Has Been Doing.

Of late years coffee has disagreed with me," writes a friend from Rome, N. Y.

"Its lightest punishment being to make me 'loggy' and dizzy, and it seemed to thicken up my blood.

"The heaviest was when it upset my stomach completely, destroying my appetite and making me nervous and irritable, and sent me to my bed. After one of these attacks, in which I nearly lost my life, I concluded to quit the coffee and try Postum.

"It went right to the spot! I found it not only a most palatable and refreshing beverage, but a food as well.

"All my ailments, the 'loginess' and dizziness, the unsatisfactory condition of my blood, my nervousness and irritability disappeared in short order and my sorely afflicted stomach began quickly to recover. I continued to rebuild and have steadily continued until now. Have a good appetite and am rejoicing in sound health which I owe to the use of Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

WOMAN'S PAGE

SNAPSHOTS BY BARBARA BOYD

Consider the Dentist

BEADS of perspiration stood on the dentist's forehead. The woman in the chair was groaning and shrieking, and, whenever she got a chance, beseeching the dentist not to hurt her so. At last she departed, and spent the rest of the day telling her family and friends how cruelly she had suffered and what a brute the dentist was. "I expect you're going to hurt like thunderbolt," he said. "I guess not," replied the optimist of the forceps. The man opened his mouth, revealing tobacco-discolored fangs and pouring forth a breath that certainly needed disinfected. Thus went the dentist's day and endless others that crowded on the heels of each other.

A procession of patients filed into the chair, each dejected, each sure the dentist was going to hurt, and that the dentist was to blame for the pain. For we take our tooth troubles to the dentist, we rush there as fast as train or trolley can carry us, if a tooth is aching, but nevertheless, we feel nothing but a sense of grievance against the dentist. And this sense of grievance increases when the bill comes in.

Yet the dentist stands patiently at his post all day, and looks into gaping mouths with teeth of many shades, shapes and conditions, with no teeth at all, or with forlorn stragglers here and there that show the marks of war—truly not a pleasant landscape to gaze at from nine until four. He listens to weeping, to wailing, to groans, to pleading, to invective. And through it all he carefully bores and plumbs and fills in and does his utmost to make life once more worth living.

Not many of us ever look at the dentist's chair from the dentist's point of view. We see it only from our own, as a place of torture and of expense that we always grumble at.

The dentist is really one of our best friends, but we seldom entertain a hearty, cordial feeling toward him. Rather, we look upon him as an affliction that must be endured.

The Evening Chit-Chat BY RUTH CAMERON

WHEN UNSELFISHNESS IS A PLEASURE.

"O H JUST WAIT," said the author's wife lately. "You just wait until they've been married six years, instead of six months, and see if he is so anxious to make sacrifices for her then."

"Perhaps he won't be," said the lady-who-always-knows-something, "and then again perhaps he will. I think it depends on how much as on him. And I think that if she shows her gratitude and delight as she does now, he will take pleasure in making sacrifices for her after they've been married six years—or sixty if they live that long."

We had been talking of a young married couple and of a generous sacrifice which the husband had made for his wife. We had heard the pleasure of witnessing both the sacrifice and the gratitude which rewarded it. And not only had the wife received the gift he brought her with an enthusiasm and a childlike delight which must have warmed any heart that had the pleasure of arousing it, but she had also remembered to return to the subject again and to tell several visitors about the gift in his presence. And each time that she did this we could almost see a glow of satisfaction and happiness spread over her husband's face.

Don't you imagine that man was well repaid for the sacrifice he made?

And don't you think that, spurred on by that rich reward he is pretty likely to keep on making sacrifices?

I do. When two young people in the first glow of their affection can not find enough to do for each other, the outsiders are apt to agree with the cynicism of the author's wife, and say, "You just wait. And sometimes they are right."

But not always, by any means. For when you come right down to it, self-sacrifice isn't wholly a matter of duty. It's also a way of finding happiness.

"After all, I've come to the conclusion," that is the conclusion which happiness in life out of doing things for others—that is the conclusion which one of the finest young men I ever knew reached before he was thirty. And, mind you, he was not in any sense a goodly-goody. He was an everyday man, and he had tasted all the delights of social and business success.

And knew just how much happiness the ordinary pleasures of life could give. Now I happen to know that this man was thinking of the happiness which virtue brings its own reward—the glow of triumph and self-approval which comes to him who overcomes. If that was enough to make a young, pleasure-loving man decide that the real happiness of life is to be found in doing for others, surely when there is added to this reward the further compensation of a genuine and sweetly expressed gratitude, self-sacrifice becomes an opportunity for pleasure rather than an arduous duty.

Let us see then that we give our part of the reward whenever we have occasion.

Heart and Home Problems

by MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: It is nice to wear a man's jewelry or accept a ring or bracelet when you are not engaged to him. SABLE.

It is not at all in good taste, my dear, and decidedly wrong to accept any jewelry or anything valuable from a man to whom you are not engaged.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—I am 15 and know a girl a few years younger and love her dearly. She doesn't seem to think much of me, but I find out she loves me. How can I tell out the truth? (2)—What will take the black out of tan shoes, made by water? ANXIOUS HARRY.

(1). Don't try. She probably won't suit you at all when you are a couple of years older. (2)—Rub lemon peel over the shoe, then polish with inside of a banana skin.

LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL, GLOSSY HAIR NO DANDRUFF--25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Hair Coming Out?—If Dry, Brittle, Thin or Your Scalp Itches and Is Full of Dandruff—Use "Danderine." Grows New Hair.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of Dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair taking one small

Tell your friends that some of the finest women in the world, who have done the most good, like Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago, never married, and that you're not ashamed to stand in their class.

Be sweet, sensible and sympathetic, and some day you will attract a man that you will love enough to marry.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am in love with a girl who went out with a steady fellow about two and a half months. Six months ago I went out with her 15 or 20 times and told her I loved her very much. She said she loved me. She broke up with the other fellow about three times. She is pretty. How can I gain her love?

F. B. Q. If you love her and want to be sure of hers why don't you ask her to marry you? That's the only square way to win a girl's love.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have the reputation of being lazy because I am not fond of housework, but very fond of books and music. I am in High School and perform well on the piano and do very nice needle work. Is there any chance of my doing well when I get older?

READER. You will be better looking for doing a little housework. I hope you don't let your dear mother do it all. It is quite the fashion now for our wealthier girls to do housework and cook. They will have to study hard to succeed as a musician.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—I have been engaged three years. Three times he said he would be ready for me in two months and when the time comes he puts it off. I am growing weary. He says nothing to mother and I believe he is not in earnest or he would ask mother. I love him dearly but don't want to keep the engagement if he wants to break it.

DOUBTFUL BLUE EYES. Try a course of cologne toward him. Go out with other young men if you can. If he objects, simply laugh and tell him he hasn't got you cinched yet. Or, if you are doubtful of him offer him his freedom.

ANSWER FOR JUST A POOR GIRL—Tell your parents at once. It is the only thing to do. Many girls suffer just that way and need doctoring.

A light, fluffy, tender omelet is a dainty dish which is fit for any meal, and one which, with a little practice, is easily prepared.

There are any number of omelets, varying with the sauce used or seasonings added to them.

Fish is especially well liked added to an omelet, a half cupful to an ordinary sized one. The fish is best added to the omelet after it is cooking; spread one-half with the mixture and fold over the other half, as otherwise it is more likely to be heavy.

One thing to remember is that too large an omelet is never satisfactory. It is better to make two or three small ones and have them good than to spoil all in preparing too large a one.

French people make omelets with no liquid added; some American cooks use water and others milk. Some cooks say that milk makes a tough omelet and water a stringy one.

A foamy omelet is made by stirring in the whites of the eggs beaten stiff. Whichever method is used, experience, a deft hand and heat, just right are necessary for a successful omelet.

One may prepare a very wholesome and appetizing omelet, using a half cup of fried fresh mushrooms or cooked asparagus tips, spreading the mixture on half the omelet and folding over the other half.

Sweet omelets are delicious, and all too infrequently served. A glass of apple jelly spread on a plain omelet makes a really fancy dish.

Parsley and chives chopped fine and added to eggs before cooking is another method of seasoning.

Gold Meat Relish. Take any cold meat, cut into small bits and put a layer in a baking dish, then add a layer of sliced onions, one of tomatoes, more meat, onions and tomatoes. Fill dish in order given, season with salt and pepper, moisten with gravy or stock. Make a crust for top and bake one hour. First half hour cover with a plate, then uncover to make a rich brown.

Logical. "What do you think of abolishing whipping in prisons?" "Well, it seems a punishment to fit the crime for the hoboes."

"How so?" "On the ground of 'whips to the beat.'"

A WOMAN'S OBSERVATIONS

Edna K. Woolley

HER REAL NEEDS.

The president of Mount Holyoke college—a woman well through long experience with college girls—recently stated that she would not advise any girl to attempt to work her way through college. In her opinion, it is better for a girl to delay entering college for a year or two while she earns the money for her tuition and expenses, than to attempt to earn the money and study at the same time.

The fact is that a college course has her work cut out for her. Much of her nervous energy is consumed by her studies—and every woman who is to attain good results, she must have for her health, at the same time, which means that any more hours outside of classes and study must be spent outdoors, in congenial company, or just resting.

The girl who adds to the anxiety of her lessons the anxiety of earning the wherewithal to continue them, will be a nervous wreck before the first year is over. She will not have achieved what she set out to do, and even though she may have passed all the "exams," she will be in no condition to use the knowledge she has gained.

After all, perhaps the average girl learns more outside than inside of her.

Let's All Work for It.

The good work started by Margaret Deland of Boston, whose annual defoliation shows in that city have benefited charitable institutions for many years, is spreading to other cities and towns. Cleveland is to have a defoliation show next spring, but has enlarged upon the original purpose of the Deland idea. The Cleveland purpose is to establish a homelike cottage in the country for girls in the first stage of tuberculosis.

In most cities there is no place for a young gentleman so afflicted to go. If he cannot afford to travel to a western sanitarium, the only place is the city hospital. The ordinary hospital doesn't want such a case. No boarding house or hotel will accept her, if her ailment is known. Neither does her employer want her any longer, and her fellow employees shun her more outside than inside of her.

HOUSEHOLD TALKS

In the fall of every year we are told that "quinces are scarce and high." The reason for this is the fruit is a native of a warmer climate and the lush so tender that it does not bear in the summer of any year following extremely cold weather.

Quinces are closely allied to the peach family; when ripe, they have yellow color and a strong, delightful fragrance. They are never eaten raw, but are used for preserving and for adding flavor to other fruits. It is seldom brought to our markets in perfection as it requires several weeks longer to ripen than most fruit and must be plucked while still green to escape being damaged by frost. They may be purchased in our markets until the first week in December, when the crop is good.

A marmalade is a semi-liquid preserve, made by boiling thick rind fruits with portions of their rinds the name is properly applied to orange, lemon and citron conserve when the rinds are cut in bits; the white lining removed and then cooked with the fruit and syrup.

Quince "marmalade" should be called preserve, but it tastes mighty fine by any name, so if you are so lucky this year as to have a few quinces don't fail to make a little of this delicious spread.

Wash the quinces and peel thinly, save the peel and the cores and the seeds. Cut the rich flesh into strips or small cubes or sections and simmer gently in just enough water to cover, until almost tender. Skim the fruit out carefully from the liquid and add as much sugar as you have fruit. Boil the sugar and liquid fruit to the mixture and simmer five minutes more. If you do not like the delicate flavor of the quince satisfactory by itself add a little candied ginger or a few drops of lemon.

HANDSOME SUIT OF DARK BROWN CHEVROT

Here's a handsome suit of dark brown chevrot, the novel shaped collar and revers are edged with folds of brown satin. Similar folds finish cuffs. The coat is fastened with self-covered buttons set on in groups of two. The lower part of both the coat and skirt is cut with extensions at the sides which lap over the inset side panels. These are trimmed with self-covered buttons in groups of three.

DINNER STORIES

When the late Senator Taylor, of Tennessee, was governor of that state he was interrupted just as he sat down to luncheon at home one day by a message from the capital to the effect that two men from an outside town wanted to see the governor at once.

The governor said to Sam his negro butler, who brought in the message: "Sam, tell them I'll be right down."

"Yes, sir," said Sam. "Sam," broke in Mrs. Taylor, "you tell them the governor will be down in half an hour—after he has finished his luncheon."

"Sam," said the governor, "say I'll be right down."

"In half an hour," said Mrs. Taylor.

"Sam," said the governor, "do you know who is the governor of Tennessee?"

"Yes, sir," replied Sam; "I'll tell 'em you'll be down in half an hour."

A man travelling in the backwoods stopped overnight with a farmer's laborer from a settlement. After supper the traveler tried to get up a conversation.

"What do you think of the Roosevelt-Taft fight?" he asked.

"Dunno nothing," about it," the farmer replied.

"Well, it may be that Hughes will be a compromise candidate. What do you think of Hughes?"

"Never heard of him."

"Are you interested in Christian Science?"

"I dunno what you mean."

"Have you any idea about the Turkish-Italian War?"

"Didn't know they was no war."

"Is it your opinion that airships are practical?"

"Never heard of 'em flyin' yet. I know they ain't none flyin' yet."

"But," exclaimed the traveler, "don't you ever read the news papers?"

"I use 'em," replied the farmer. "I did once for quite a spell, but they got too funny. Bout ten or fifteen years ago I quit readin' 'em. Since then I've bin readin' a book."

A certain professor of divinity who was spending the summer in the Scottish Highlands was invited, to the Yorkshire Post declares, to baptize the infant son of the local minister.

When the time of the ceremony arrived, the guest gave out for congregational singing a paraphrase much favored on such occasions. "Let us," said he, "sing from the fifth psalm, beginning at the second verse. As sparks in close succession rise."

To his consternation, the congregation giggled audibly. Afterward, asking the clerk what he had done wrong, that functionary replied, "You must know, professor, the minister's name is Sparks, and your-der is his tenth bairn!"

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN Food Specialist

AS TO LETTERS OF INQUIRY.

"One of the best edited and ablest managed newspapers in this country instituted an innovation of great moment in conserving the health of the people, when it established early in September last, a health department and secured Dr. Evans, formerly health commissioner of the city of Chicago, to conduct it," says Oral Hygiene. "If this example is followed by other influential papers, the amount of good that will accrue to humanity will be incalculable." It is now about two years since these Hints were instituted, and it would be no exaggeration to say, in the language of the editor quoted, that incalculable good has been accomplished by this department. I have received many letters from both lay and professional readers expressing appreciation and reporting much benefit from following some of the advice given. While not all questions and suggestions can be answered here, I am glad to know what lines of suggestion are most helpful and to endeavor to meet individual needs as far as possible. All letters received through the editor have been answered directly or through the published Hints.

GOLD DUST makes dish-washing easy

The use of a little Gold Dust in your dish-water will make your dishes brighter, sweeter and cleaner than they ever can be without it. Unlike soap, Gold Dust does more than clean the surface. It goes deep after germs and hidden food particles and sterilizes everything it touches.

Gold Dust does all the hard part of the work without your assistance, because it begins to dissolve and clean the moment it touches the water.

When you have to wash dishes 1095 times a year, the Gold Dust method of saving half your time and half your labor means something.

Gold Dust is sold in 5c size and large packages. The large package means greater economy.

"Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work."

Why that worried look, Madam?

Clothes spotted?

Discouraging, isn't it, after a hard day's work?

Why not send us your family wash? We'll return it to you rough dried, or we'll do your ironing, too, if you desire. No more worry or bother.

Special rates on family washings—by the piece, week, month or year.

Perfect Dry Cleaning

Expert knowledge, combined with the latest improved types of machinery necessary to this work enable us to turn out the best work and send your garments home to you spotlessly clean as you would have them.

BY WALT MASON

Oh, many ten cent men go forth to boost the People's cause; throughout the land, East, West, South, North, you hear their clashing jaws. And some are ordinary skates who've always sought the spoils; the cheap old chronic candidates who work the man who toils. And there are hosts of also rans who hope some snaps to win, and now are full of pious plans to turn the rascals in. And there are men whose soaring strains stir up the soul to thrills, who, when they're home between bills. Before you get a real reform you'll have to dump these geese who all their days have raised a storm—and never earned ten cents. The lily-fingered chaps who shriek about the toiler's woes, would perish if they worked a week in old denim clothes. They promise helpful laws and bills, and size you up for loons; they care no more about your ills than Caesar cares for pines. The man who never shed his coat or knew the world's rough knocks, should never get a worker's vote, no odds how loud he talks. When windmills and aristocrats propose to raise your pay, just breathe some reference to rats, and vote the other way.

The Messiah of Toil

Doctrine of Equality, a Common Fatherhood, a Common Brotherhood, Is on the Way.

THE promised Messiah came to a sin-weary and toll-worn world. There was joy on high and there was joy on earth. The wise men of the east saw the newborn star of the west, and came to see the wonder. The carpenter's son grew up unknown to his people. Consecrated for his work, his miracles and works no more than his personality and words gained for him a hearing and a following. His people were sore oppressed by bondage, political and spiritual. Singly he fought the latter and gained for us, as for them, freedom. It cost him his life, but he rose again on the third day and he and his teachings as centered in his personality have survived the storms of succeeding ages and today strike a deeper root than ever in the institutions, religious, political and industrial, of the people of the west.

Sin and toil were the two fruits of the fall. Without spiritual freedom, no true happiness may be possible. We must seek that first, then the other will be given us. And the means of it has been given us. The bondage of unrequited toil is being loosened. Long enough has it held the great mass of humanity in shackles. Generations after generations of hoemen have populated this earth, their best life crushed by excessive toil, supporting at times a luxury justifiable, at times a luxury as meaningless as their own wretchedness. Greece and Rome shone, but behind the glitter, and behind that of all ancient and medieval times, we see a dark background of slavery and serfdom. As a political entity the slave is no more, but so long as the amount of human labor needed to provide living for all is such that the many must toil, so long will systems be devised to make them do so.

Institutions Founded on Equality.

This has been difficult here. Our political institutions are founded on the Messiah's doctrine of equality, a common fatherhood, a common brotherhood. Human labor has become expensive, we have been looking for substitutes. Science, unwilling at first, has been called in. The powers of nature have been harnessed, tools and machines vastly improved so as to make individual labor more productive, and much has been realized. Man as a producer of the physical necessities of life is today twice if not ten times more powerful than was his ancestor working one hundred years ago. Investigations prove it and the evidences we see on every hand.

This has been the history of modern industry and this its mission, to emancipate the toiler. The vast problems involving distribution of benefits have not been solved, but are being solved. A very large amount is already widely distributed. The Christmas star shines forth on a world of life which, if more complex, is yet essentially more rich than any preceding. The west, the first to see the true meaning of the Messiah's mission, is the first step to reap the benefits from a social organization whose ideal is universal love. The course of this influence widening will extend ever westward until the circle of the lands is complete. Even now the wise men of the east, seeing the new star, have accepted its guidance, while, deep from the lives of the millions doubly freed rise the strains of the Nativity hymn.

Life Hid With Christ in God. Man is a dual being, made up of body and spirit. Through his spirit he has affinities with the invisible and spiritual world. Through his body he has a relation to the material world that surrounds him, and from it he draws what is necessary for his physical life and growth. But while man is such a dual being and should so act as to hold himself in proper relations to both the worlds with which he has affinity, it is possible for him to be so predominately under the influence of one that he loses his grip on the other. If he draws his motives of activity largely from the spiritual world and finds his chief joy in the great fact that he is a spirit and looking forward to the spiritual world as the place of his future activities, he has true spirituality. He is giving his spiritual nature the first place, as it should be given. Paul had this thought in mind when he said to the Colossians, "For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God." The particular characteristic of the dead to which the apostle refers is insensibility. The Christian should be insensible to the physical—not absolutely so, but it should not have dominion over him. He should be superior to it.

Eternal Truth. "Truth is not at the mercy of human tradition. Though every page of history should fade; though the Bible should be lost; though Jesus should be forgotten, the light that shone upon these pages, the light that shone in him would still shine. Truth is eternal; it is forever present, and we may see it now even more clearly than in the ancient time."—A Modern Preacher.

New Thought for the World. Guardians of the poor are not all Bumbles. They are human beings with the ordinary warm hearts of Englishmen.—London Mail.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY IS INTERESTED IN WATSON'S FIGHT FOR RE-ELECTION

Senator and Mrs. Clarence W. Watson.

Washington society is watching with interest the fight of Senator Clarence W. Watson of West Virginia for another term in the United States senate. It is interested primarily because of Mrs. Watson, who is one of the most popular women in the congressional set.

Senator Watkins is a Democrat, and was chosen by the West Virginia legislature on January 25, 1911, to fill the unexpired term of the late Stephen B. Elkins. Watson's present term expires March 3, 1913.

GERTRUDE ATHERTON, NOVELIST, STUMPS IN CALIFORNIA FOR WOODROW WILSON

Gertrude Atherton.

Mrs. Gertrude Atherton, the well-known California novelist, is making public speeches in her state in behalf of Woodrow Wilson for president. She declares that Roosevelt is no friend of the Socialists, as some have been led to believe, but that Woodrow Wilson is the only man who can save the country from rushing to Socialism.

"Roosevelt is given to shooting off his mouth, or I might say his teeth," declares Mrs. Atherton. "I confess that I cannot see much difference in the personal platforms of Wilson and Roosevelt, save that one was read and the other bellowed."
